ISO 9001 Upgrade Underscores Customer Commitment

West Chester, OH – Quasonix, Inc. announced receipt of ISO 9001:2015 certification. ISO 9001 is a quality management standard recognized around the world with the objective of improving product quality and customer focus through process improvement.

Terry Hill, president of Quasonix, stated that: “Quasonix has always used design, manufacturing, and test procedures that ensured our customers got the quality they expected and needed. The upgrade to ISO 9001-2015 increases customer focus and puts additional emphasis on sensitivity to the markets we serve. It tells our customers that we're committed to attaining even higher levels of quality and performance.”
